

What is the T: Drive or Home Folder?

Your Home Folder (T:) is a place on the network server on which you can store your school documents and files. Only you and the network administrator will have access to these files. The server is backed up every night to a tape and the tape is moved to another building. We recommend that you use this space for all of your school files. If your computer's hard drive was to crash you would still have all of your work. This folder can also be accessed from any computer in the school that is connected to the network so you would not be limited to working on just one computer.